Future editions will include more as there are many people working behind the scenes who deserve recognition but are rarely seen.

Summer at Salthouse is a series of exhibitions at St Nicholas Church in Salthouse (pages 63–65) and details of the Raveningham Sculpture Trail are on page 54. Paint Out moves to Suffolk this summer – see page 53 To take you around the county, we have included summaries of arts and culture on offer in Cromer, Diss, Great Yarmouth and King's Lynn as these towns are very much part of the growing Norfolk arts scene. There is extra information about these places on the Art in Norwich website www.artinnorwich.org.uk

To help find your way around the booklet, Norfolk events are signified by a green side tab, grey for Norwich events.

SmARTify App to discover art

A recent visit to the Sainsbury Centre introduced me to the SmARTify App – a different way to engage with art. The app is really useful to discover new work, artists and exhibitions and also to listen to a deeper interpretation. The Sainsbury Centre currently has two tours on the app which you can use at home or in the Centre to guide you round. Find out more on page 8

About Art in Norwich

This programme is a collaboration of a number of organisations who promote visual art, public art, craft, heritage and literature in and around Norwich.

The reach extends into the wider county of Norfolk, highlighting the thriving arts and cultural scene.

The aim is to gather visual art listings in one place so that they are easy to find and to offer an overview of art activity and infrastructure in city and county throughout the year. There is an emphasis on visual art but wider cultural events are also included where appropriate. Behind Art in Norwich is a self-supporting partnership of art groups and cultural organisations.

We hope you will keep this booklet safe as it covers six months' programming. Because of space limitations and lots going on, exhibition and event details are brief but you can find out more from individual organisations and venues from their own websites.

See pages at the back of the booklet for maps, contact and venue details.

Please also visit our website at www.artinnorwich.org.uk where you can download a pdf of this booklet.

Important: All information is subject to change – please check with individual organisations before travelling to an event.

About the Smartify app

Carry a tour guide in your pocket!

Smartify is a free app which is available for smartphones and tablets to enable people to connect digitally with arts and culture.

The idea of the app is that you can find out more about objects and artworks in a gallery or museum collection without cluttering the setting of the object with large interpretation panels. You can access lots of extra content and information about exhibitions, take tours, listen to talks and experience a deeper engagement through the app, either in the venue or remotely from your sofa before, after or instead of your visit.

You can search artists or galleries or specific pieces of work. The app also prompts you to discover new artefacts and exhibitions which you may not know of otherwise. Smartify also connects museums and art galleries both nationally and internationally enabling audiences to 'visit' venues that they wouldn't normally be able to get to such as the Museum of London (take The Clash tour), the National Gallery and Portrait Gallery, the Ashmolean in Oxford, the V&A in Dundee, the Smithsonian Institute in the US and many more.

In Norfolk we are lucky enough to have the Sainsbury Centre at UEA as a partner venue so you can tour the exhibits and take a close look at special objects such as Henry Moore's Mother and Child either at home or in the beautiful Norman Foster building in the UEA campus.

Smartify at the Sainsbury Centre

Through two immersive audio experiences on the Smartify app, you can discover new ways to meet the living art in our collection.

Living Art, a tour guided by museum director Jago Cooper, invites you to meet art in new and explorative ways, unlike how you have experienced it in a museum before. You will be asked to touch the artwork, listen to it, move with it, and forge a personal relationship with it that can transcend time and artists' intent.

Sharing Stories enables you to choose the voice of the artwork you want to listen to. With more than thirty contributors from all around the world, choose between artist, expert or lived experience.

You can also use the Smartify app to scan our objects if you want to find out more about anything in our collection. Ask at the reception desk for more information about how the app works and what you can find through it as well as other ways of navigating the galleries.

Download the free Smartify app for either iPhone or Android phones and click 'Explore' to search for 'Sainsbury Centre'. Scan the QR code for a shortcut to the app.

Art and Culture in Norwich & Norfolk, Covid and the economic downturn

Clearly everyone has been affected by Covid over recent years, and now there are all the challenges of the economic downturn, with money for exhibitions and venues in short supply. Many groups are finding it hard to plan ahead in the way they are used to doing. The routine of publishing Art and Culture in Norwich & Norfolk is back to its regular spring/autumn schedule and widely available at many venues and from the Arts Roundup racks in The Forum, City College, Norwich Bus station and many other venues around the city and some in the county too and even into Suffolk! St Peter Mancroft and Norwich Cathedral in Norwich also have reliable supplies.

In true creative spirit, organisations and artists are powering through the challenges and making new events happen. The continuing demand for Art in Norwich and Norfolk has been truly heart-warming. Inevitably there is still some uncertainty in programming so please use this booklet as a directory and check with venues and organisations by visiting their websites and social media.

But don't let it stop you going out, venues and organisers need your support.

You can find web addresses on every page and a directory at the back of the booklet.

ART IN NORWICH & NORFOLK BY POST

We have all had to adapt to many changes to the way we live and work – some venues have closed and with fuel and other price rises we are just going out less – so to make sure we don't miss some of the great arts and cultural opportunities available to us, making active choices is more important.

To make that easier, Art and Music in Norwich/Norfolk are now available by post – pay the postage and get your very own copy delivered to your door.

Go to www.artinnorwich.org.uk/AiNbypost or email info@theshiftnorwich.org.uk find out what to do to get your copy for the price of a stamp.

LOUIS NIXON

Louis Nixon is an artist and academic who has worked in Art and Design education for more than 30 years and leads the University's engagement with industry to build its reputation as a centre for world class research in creative arts and technologies.

Louis studied painting at Chelsea School of Art and completed postgraduate studies in sculpture at Slade School of Fine Art. His fine art practice encompasses painting, sculpture, installation, and experimental film, often presented as multi-media installations in galleries and public spaces. In 1990 he founded the collective Space Explorations and since 2001 Nixon has worked independently and exhibited widely in the UK and internationally, including solo exhibitions in London, Hong Kong, and Italy.

*'Going to Meet the Sea'
An exploratory research walk with artists, curators, academics, naturalists, and climate scientists*

East Gallery

As well as his artistic career, Louis has a track record of leading strategic development for large-scale art institutions in the UK and Hong Kong and has ambitious plans for Norwich University of the Arts by reconnecting with the arts landscape in Norfolk, both artists and organisations, and building the reputation of the University as an international centre of excellence for arts education as well as a catalyst for high-level artistic and creative development. Louis has started by going back to some of the roots of Norwich University of the Arts' achievements such as EASTInternational which established Norwich's reputation for contemporary art and a new curatorial strategy for East Gallery which hosts regular exhibitions.

A new initiative is Bank Plain, a former bank and the latest addition to the University's campus estate, which is being adapted as a new hub for experimentation and connection for the University and a civic space for the community of Norwich. The University has also invested in its courses and campus buildings, offering the most amazing facilities to all.

This will include accessible spaces from basement to battlements and a new Gallery of Medieval Life, developed in partnership with the British Museum. ### SUNLIGHT

Sunlight is the first survey of the work of British artist Roger Ackling and the most significant exhibition of his work to date.

Ackling is known for his work on found driftwood, and this exhibition expands on his reputation to include lesser-known works, which use domestic wooden objects and tools along with ready-made elements such as elastic bands and mapping pins.

The exhibition also features works on card and paper that have not been exhibited before in the UK.

Ackling's work prompts important conversations about the status of the object, the significance of material, the processes of making and the transformative power of display.

HOLDING SPACE : MODERN AND CONTEMPORARY ART AT NORWICH CASTLE

This new exhibition at Norwich Castle features nearly 50 works from the Contemporary Art collections, dating from 1964 to the present day. The display includes new works from leading contemporary artists including Ibrahim Mahama, Beatrice Gibson, and Florence Peake – some of which are on show for the first time.

The works in holding space explore our interaction with the spaces which surround us and how they function in our lives. Some works explore physical bodies, with the memories and experiences held within them. Other works explore the ways in which we are connected to one another through family, geography, shared ideas, or emotions.

Sainsbury Centre at UEA

The Sainsbury Centre is a world class art museum with a unique perspective on how art can foster cultural dialogue and exchange. Following a radical relaunch in 2023 the Sainsbury Centre is the first museum in the world to formally recognise the life-force of art, enabling people to build relationships across an arts landscape.

One of the first museums in the world to display art from all around the globe and from all time periods equally and collectively, Sir Robert and Lady Lisa Sainsbury created one of the most sought after yet non-conformist art collections.

In 1973 they donated their collection, which transcended traditional barriers between art, architecture, archaeology and anthropology, to the UEA, to be housed in Sir Norman Foster's revolutionary first-ever public building.

The art of the Sainsbury Centre is able to help reframe and answer the most important questions people have in their lives. The Centre's second season of its 'Big Questions' series asks WHAT IS TRUTH? The Sainsbury Centre investigates how we can know what is true in the world around us through a series of interlinked exhibitions.

Against the backdrop of fake news, elaborate scams and the burgeoning presence of Artificial Intelligence, are we experiencing a time when increasingly sophisticated technology can distort reality and diminish our own sense of authenticity?

LIQUID GENDER

Liquid Gender explores the relationship between identity and culture, asking how do we know who we really are? Through the photography, collage and sculptural work of Leilah Babirye, Martine Gutierrez and Laryssa Machada and Antônio Vital Neto Pankararu, and new holographic sculpture titled 'In the Absence of Evidence, We Create Stories' from Rashaad Newsome, the pressures of society are pushed aside and the true self is revealed.

JEFFREY GIBSON : NO SIMPLE WORD FOR TIME

The first Indigenous artist to represent the USA at this year's Venice Biennale, Jeffrey Gibson is a painter and sculptor whose work is held in many major American collections. Incorporating murals, paintings, textiles and historical objects, Gibson's work also weaves together text drawn lyrics, poetry and his own writing, complete with references to abstraction, fashion and popular culture. The exhibition will illuminate the rich practice of abstraction in Indigenous art.

THE CAMERA NEVER LIES : CHALLENGING IMAGES THROUGH THE INCITE PROJECT

This exhibition re-evaluates some of the most iconic images of the past 100 years, asking to what extent they have shaped or created a false understanding of major global events.

The exhibition looks at the way photography has been used to present facts, whilst questioning its truth, through photographers such as Don McCullin and Robert Capa.

Alongside photographs from the 20th-century are the work of current photographic artists who use the medium to question assumed truths about diverse subjects, including government surveillance, domestic violence, and the effect of conflict on civilian populations.

DINOSAURIUM : REIMAGINED CREATURES

Every dinosaur you have ever seen, on film, TV, in books or exhibitions has, at least in part, been a work of the imagination. Since the first dinosaurs were identified there has been a desire to put flesh on the bones and a glint in the eye of these amazing animals.

This family friendly exhibition from Hampshire Cultural Trust looks at the long history of our relationship with dinosaurs, from the ancient legends of mythical winged beasts in the deserts of central Asia, to the creatures brought to life in movies.

Great Yarmouth Museums

A short walk away from Time and Tide, on the South Quay, are the Elizabethan House Museum, once home to wealthy merchants and influential locals, and the Tolhouse Gaol, one of the oldest prisons in the country.

Arts & culture in Great Yarmouth

There is a growing number of arts projects in Great Yarmouth recently, in newer venues as well as old favourites. Over the last few years, money has been invested and as a result the arts scene is growing. The Great Yarmouth Preservation Trust is also doing a great job restoring heritage for the benefit of the town.

St George's Theatre is a major venue with theatre, music and shows all year round. The theatre was refurbished a few years ago and has a fantastic interior – it is well worth a visit as well as checking out the programme which includes a wide range of repertoire from local productions to national touring shows.

original projects; occupies the former Debenhams store, now called PrimeYarc, a creative hub and gallery that truly connects with the community around it (see page 51).

Great Yarmouth Hippodrome has four major circus spectaculars a year as well as hosting concerts and shows from other producers. The Hippodrome is a unique place and a must-see venue – it never disappoints! The Empire on Marine Parade also has a weekly music offer with Djs and bands as well as street food, beer and cocktails.

Out There Arts (formerly Seachange) also runs regular circus and performing arts classes in their home at the Drill House as well as the epic Out There Festival with a new date of 30 May to 1 June (moved from September) and Fire On The Water which brings many visitors to the town to enjoy home-grown and international circus and outdoor arts performances in St George's Park and other locations around the town.

They have recently received funding to renovate the large Ice House building next to Haven Bridge as a culture hub.

Carnival at The Drill House, York Road

There is a thriving street art scene including Représent CIC which has created a trail of murals around the town in a grass-roots effort to spread public street art that embellishes and enriches the visual landscape of Great Yarmouth as well explaining the heritage and culture of the town.

The town itself is a cultural wonderland with traditional seaside style on one side – sometimes surreal as a Cinderella carriage comes around the corner – the famous Giant Snails, the Big Dipper, Model Village and huge sandy beach complete with donkey rides.

On the other side, a rich maritime and industrial history on the river Yare on the docks at South and North Quay. In the centre, the marketplace, The Rows and historic buildings are testament to a trading past. Anna Sewell lived in a cottage near the Minster and Charles Dickens wrote and set much of David Copperfield in the town. More recently Greek, Portuguese and Eastern European residents have brought a wide range of cafés, bars and restaurants as well as traditional music and events. The market (famous for its chips and seagulls) has been recently refurbished with new stall added and the wonderful Victorian Winter Gardens along the seafront is about to be restored which is fantastic.

For more information about arts and culture in the town of Great Yarmouth please see the page online at www.artinnorwich.org.uk/yarmoutharts.html

Freshly Greated is a programme of community activities funded under Creative People and Places and reaches areas of Yarmouth often without cultural opportunities.

Time and Tide Museum (see page 66) has a regular contemporary art programme curated by Norfolk Museums, as well as permanent displays which describe the history of the fishing industry on which the town was built Great Yarmouth Minster is the main venue for organ recitals and classical music, again a spectacular heritage building in the north of the town.

The Great Yarmouth Arts Festival happens annually, taking place in September 2024.

The Venetian Waterways and Boating Lake is an Edwardian seaside attraction near the North Beach that that was restored as a result of Lottery funding. You can walk in the gardens, hire a boat or have a cuppa in the tearoom.

A quick guide to art in Norwich

View of Norwich from City Hall towards Norwich Castle

Norwich is a medieval city which, in its hey-day, rivalled London in terms of size and was, for many years, England's second city, being only 100 miles from the court of London. It was a wealthy city with its fame built on the textile trade, weaving and particularly wool. Nearly half of the population was French, Dutch or Flemish and engaged in the weaving trade – hence the name of the football club, the Canaries, called after the birds which the weavers kept for company. In the Industrial Revolution, Norwich was off the beaten track for commerce and transport and so attracted artists, philosophers and radical thinkers, and was home to the famous Norwich School of Painters. Many religious non-conformists also settled here and the place became a hotbed for artists and writers, as it is today. It is also now a UNESCO City of Literature and twinned with Rouen, in Normandy.

Amongst its many cultural assets Norwich can claim:

Norwich University of the Arts, one of the best universities for courses in animation and film, fine art and illustration, architecture, games design, graphic design, fashion, media and much more, including East Gallery in St Andrew's Street.

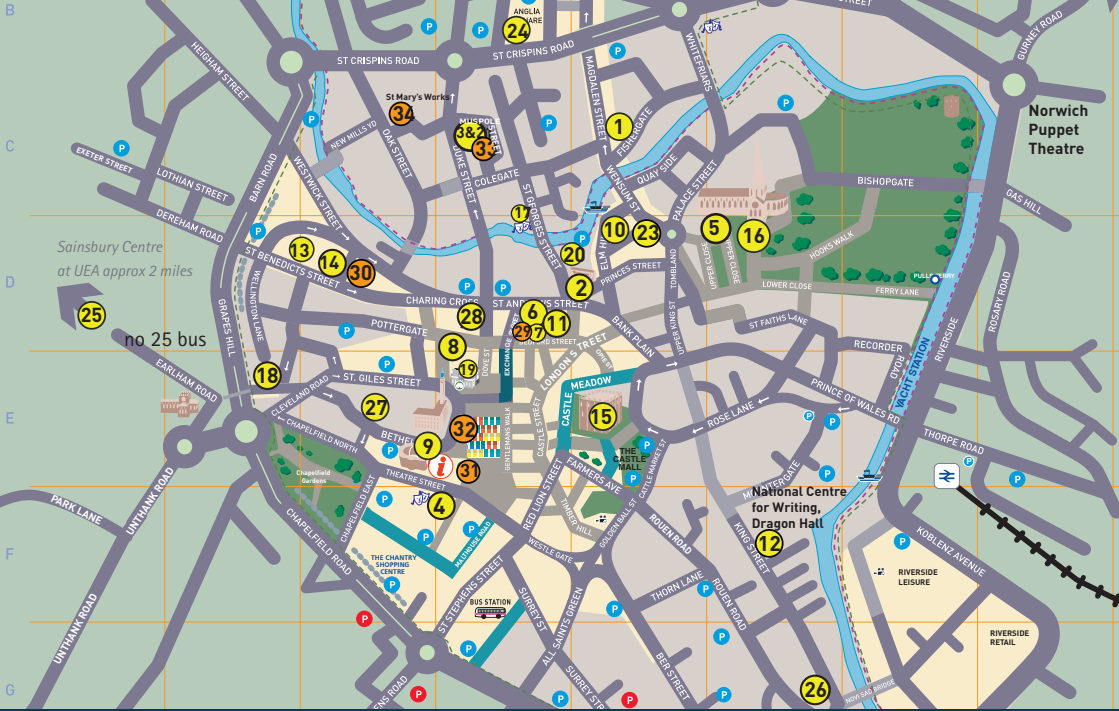

Norwich Castle and the Sainsbury Centre at UEA are world-class venues, attracting national-level touring shows, with permanent collections of World Art as well as work by Picasso, Henry Moore, Francis Bacon, Modigliani, Degas and local masters – Munnings and the Norwich School of Painters including work from contemporary artists such as Colin Self, and now a growing sculpture park at UEA.

Norfolk and Norwich Festival in May, an international multi-arts annual festival with 17 days of concerts, outdoor arts and theatre, both mainstream and left-field, as well as an increasingly innovative and site-specific visual arts programme.

Norwich Arts Centre is a multi-arts venue with a programme which includes live art, music and performance and the Norwich School has an events programme with a regular cycle of exhibitions in the Crypt Gallery in the Cathedral Close.

There are a number of artist-led galleries and studios, notably OUTPOST, Anteros Arts and St Etheldredas – and some well-established and very active, artists' groups such as Norfolk Contemporary Art Society, Norwich Print Fair, Norwich 20 Group and the Lonely Arts Club.

Venues such as St Mary's Works, Assembly House, The Undercroft and Greenhouse Gallery host exhibitions along with several commercial galleries such as Fairhurst and Mandell's. As well as Art in Norwich partners, there are over 900 practising visual artists and groups in Norfolk and a thriving underground arts scene in addition to the main institutions. ## WHERE TO GO IN NORFOLK

As well as exhibition venues listed in this booklet we have included other locations of interest and that often have exhibitions. The whole Norfolk coast is beautiful and varied and the coast road offers splendid views over saltmarshes and beaches. The north coast is especially good for bird watchers, seals, sailing and fishing. A drive along the coast will take you through many picturesque villages with galleries and craft shops. Inland, market towns are also local hubs of activity. To the west and south are the Brecks – open heathland and forests.

ART IN NORFOLK

Norwich is set in the stunning county of Norfolk. It is the centre of a busy rural hinterland, varied and beautiful. Because there is space, there are over 800 visual artists working here and it has a long history of being a creative place. And the skies, the light and the landscapes have been an ongoing source of inspiration too. Across the county you will find many galleries and exhibitions in larger venues and also pubs and cafés.

For more, check local tourist information, the National Trust properties, Wolterton Hall, Mannington Hall and the market towns of Diss, Wymondham, Loddon and Harleston to the south, Holt, Aylsham, Reepham, Cromer, Sheringham, Salthouse, Blakeney to the north, Great Yarmouth and Lowestoft to the east, King's Lynn and Houghton to the west.

And if you fancy some non-art time, you can't beat the Norfolk coastline, the Brecks and the famous Norfolk Broads.

Explore Norfolk – you will get hooked!

'The city of Norwich has many fans, of which I am one. It has a fantastic and historic urban fabric, a glorious rural hinterland and an unparalleled coastline of which I am proud to be able to tell people. I support the football club here and applaud the initiatives which I see taking place all over the city, wrought by the many excellent cultural organisations who work together to ensure an excellent quality of life for the citizens and those who are lucky enough to visit or stay.'

Stephen Fry.

Art in Norwich is published by Culture Shift twice a year, Spring and Autumn, and is funded by its partners working together to showcase the great art and culture in Norwich and Norfolk all year and every year.

Thank you.

A large, dark, abstract sculpture of a human figure stands on a vast green lawn. In the background, a grand, multi-story stone building with a prominent dome and many windows is visible under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. The scene is set in a park-like environment with trees in the distance.

North of the City – take a walk

OUTPOST Artists Studios, Gildengate House, Anglia Square

The north of the city is busy place for new artists and creative businesses. Recently a plan to redevelop Anglia Square Shopping Centre was shelved which means that many artists that have been preparing to move are in limbo whilst a new plan is made. In all cities there is an area which gets a bit run down and property is left empty. As values drop, it becomes feasible for artists and start-up businesses to rent space. In some cases, enlightened developers allow artists to have spaces for 'meanwhile use' until areas can be redeveloped such as St Mary's and St George's Works just off Duke Street where the Shoe Factory Social Club and Lion House are accommodating artists and creative uses.

New galleries and spaces have popped up in Magdalen Street, and all along St Augustine's Street and the Norwich Men's Shed is in Pitt Street off Anglia Square.

Norwich Hackspace, Artpocket, the Royal Drawing School and a range of artists have settled into Lion House Studios in Muspole Street, right opposite the Muspole Street Studios which has accommodated artists and potters for many years.

The Shoe Factory Social Club has regular exhibitions and Coslany Art Space in St Mary Coslany church off Oak Street is being renovated prior to opening a gallery and studios.

Many of the studios in this area offer hands-on sessions in printmaking, pottery, drawing, textiles, illustration and painting as well as accredited degree courses.

Member-led group OUTPOST has run a gallery in Tombland for 18 years and also manages around 80 artist studios in Gildengate House in Anglia Square for now at least. These all give opportunities to emerging artists, students and creatives of all ages.

As well as galleries and art spaces, there are vintage shops, makerspaces and artist shops, ethnic foods, and antiques and collectables in dig-around caverns where you will find interesting bargains and artefacts.

Take a walk along Magdalen Street and find Anteros Arts, the Merchant House Café, Sahara Café, Looses, Dhaba at Fifteen, Aladdin's Cave, the Make Place and much more.

This is definitely an area of the city to have a poke around in and explore – please do!

Museum of Norwich at the Bridewell

Nestled in the Norwich Lanes, the Bridewell has been a merchant's house, a house of correction, a tobacco warehouse and a shoe factory. Now, the Museum of Norwich tells the stories of the people who helped to create our modern city, from domestic, commercial and industrial, with many fascinating displays inside and, outside, one of the finest examples of a knapped flint wall in the city!

Norwich Print Fair

*St Margaret's Church,
St Benedict's Street,
Norwich*

The Norwich Print Fair will be back!

Norwich Print Fair was the first Print Fair in the UK and was the brain-child of renowned mezzotint artist Martin Mitchell whose vision was always to champion traditional and contemporary printmaking techniques and to educate and involve the wider public. Each year we hold Open Portfolio and Demonstration days where the public can talk to the artists about their work and watch as prints come hot off the presses! Normally there are around 30 printmakers displaying framed and unframed work for sale as well as greetings cards and other work.

As our venue has been unavailable, we have postponed the Print Fair pending completion of the renovations.

Coming eventually!

THE 25th NORWICH PRINT FAIR

Norwich, NR2 4TU.

St Margaret's Church in St Benedict's, the building normally used for the Norwich Print Fair, is undergoing necessary and extensive renovation. There have been inevitable delays which means we are unsure when we will be able to welcome visitors back into the glorious medieval Church of St Margaret's for our 25th annual celebration of contemporary printmaking.

As soon as the work is completed and when we have a date we will let people know through our website and social media. We are looking forward to it!

Strangers' Hall, Norwich

One of Norwich's most historic buildings, this magnificent house has been home to many of the city's leading citizens since the 14th century.

Owned by a series of wealthy merchants, during the 16th century the house became known as Strangers' Hall, referring to the 'strangers' who came to work in Norwich as weavers from France, Belgium and the Low Countries. Now as a museum open to the public you can explore rooms furnished in the styles of different historical periods, brought to life with beautiful textiles, domestic objects and creative interpretation.

www.museums.norfolk.gov.uk/strangers-hall

STRANGERS' HALL 100

2023 is the centenary of Strangers' Hall opening its doors as a publicly owned museum. To celebrate this milestone a new artist-designed window display celebrates some of the important figures in the museum's history and new displays and interpretation banners present archive photos and documents in the museum.

Please note that unfortunately, due to the age of Strangers' Hall, not all spaces are completely accessible; please visit our website to find out more before you visit.

Strangers' Hall is open on Wednesdays 10am–4pm and Sundays 1pm–4.30pm

Entry is free with a Norfolk Museums Pass. For more information about the Pass please visit www.museums.norfolk.gov.uk

Waveney & Blyth Arts

Our patch

Waveney and Blyth Arts promotes the rich cultural identity of our patch by supporting the work of artists, musicians, writers and makers. We partner other arts organisations, build connections and commission and present many art forms ourselves.

For over 12 years the organisation's members have been able to use our website to promote their work, find out what's going on in the arts community round here and of course network. There's a newsletter, a jobs and opportunities bulletin, and members are listed in our creative directory. We are a registered charity, which means we can both attract funding and distribute small grants.

Work by Tobias Ford from the 2022 Sculpture in the Valley at Potton Hall, Suffolk

Over the years we have organised exhibitions, markets, talks, sculpture trails, guided walks, workshops, performances and environmental arts projects. And members get a discount on the events we charge for.

You don't have to be an artist to become a member: sign up (£20 a year) and you'll be supporting the whole enterprise and helping us programme events.

To find out what we're planning this year, keep an eye on our website. We're focusing on three areas – artists' and makers' markets; books, poetry and illustration; and walks. And watch out for events celebrating Roger Deakin and Ronald Blythe.
